

www.eshre.eu

SCIENCE MOVING
PEOPLE
MOVING SCIENCE

eshre

ESHRE CAMPUS

The impact of reproductive surgery on cross-talk between the embryo and the endometrium

European Society of Human Reproduction and Embryology

Milan – Italy
28-30 January 2016

eshre
SCIENCE MOVING
PEOPLE
MOVING SCIENCE

www.eshre.eu/milan

THE IMPACT OF REPRODUCTIVE SURGERY ON CROSS-TALK BETWEEN THE EMBRYO AND THE ENDOMETRIUM

// ESHRE CAMPUS

COURSE DESCRIPTION

Latest data and most innovative procedures in the field of reproductive surgery.

TARGET AUDIENCE

Gynaecologists - Fertility specialists

FACULTY

Chris Barratt (United Kingdom)
Carlo Bulletti (Italy)
Rudi L. Campo (Belgium)
Massimo Candiani (Italy)
Luigi Fedele (Italy)
Joep Geraedts (The Netherlands)
Marco Gergolet (Italy)
Luca Gianaroli (Italy)
Stephan Gordts (Belgium)
Gregoris Grimbizis (Greece)
Tin-Chiu Li (Hong Kong)
Antonis Makrigiannakis (Greece)
Ida Martinelli (Italy)
Dahm Kähler Pernilla Linnea (Sweden)
Augusto Enrico Semprini (Italy)
Edgardo Somigliana (Italy)
Vasilios Tanos (Cyprus)
Antoine Watrelot (France)

COURSE OBJECTIVES

- to investigate and teach surgical techniques which can be useful in preventing infertility and improving ART results
- to evaluate the cost effectiveness of surgical procedures vs IVF or combined with IVF
- to analyse effectiveness and safety of reproductive surgery and to discuss strategies for their improvement
- to analyse research and evidence-based data concerning all aspects of the implantation process

Find out more at:
www.eshre.eu/milan